Property Description

Formerly known as the FBI New York Headquarters, this luxury rental residence now known as the Fairfax is a distinguished Upper East Side landmark. In an area dominated by bland, cookie-cutter high rise towers, the Fairfax stands apart from the crowd.

Enter into this one-of-a-kind apartment that is bright, spacious and comfortable. This uniquely designed residence offers airy living with its 9-foot ceilings and open-space layout giving you a generous and sprawling living environment.

Apartment features include:

- Lustrous oak parquet floors
- Nine-foot beamed ceilings
- Generous closet space
- Stainless steel appliances
- Dishwasher
- Individually controlled heating and air conditioning
- Sound resistant windows that keep the city silent, but well within view!
- Pets allowed

Building Amenities:

- 24 hour doorman and concierge service
- Fitness Center
- Landscaped roof deck
- Valet service
- 24-hour attended, on-site parking directly accessible from the lobby.

Neighborhood -

This is the Upper East Side's most desirable location and convenient location. Just one block away, you have the 6 Subway train on Lexington Avenue between 68th and 69th Street. Two blocks over you also have the M66, the crosstown bus for when you want to head to the West Side.

In addition, "with Central Park only a stone's throw away and the East River's beauty and cool breezes just around the corner, the neighborhood offers a trove of recreational possibilities. Add to that the famous boutiques of Madison and Fifth Avenues and the award-winning restaurants throughout the area and you have yourself a metropolitan paradise."
